The new counter experience is all about feeling safe. Customers and staff want to know that there are procedures and equipment in place to protect and separate. Emphasize this message throughout the entire customer journey.

Set up clear barrier ‘sneeze’ guards between each customer as well as between customers and employees for maximum separation.

Clearly communicating safety measures helps customers feel more comfortable in your establishment.

Offering several opportunities to sanitize hands will give peace of mind to both customers and employees.

- ① Sign towers have lots of room for messaging with a small footprint and can double as sanitizer stations.
- ② Think versatile: new or existing sign stands can be used as sneeze guards now and re-used later for informative signage.
- ③ Use Q-PANEL® systems in your queue to emphasize traffic flow. They're a great branding opportunity as well.
- ④ Add social distancing reminder signage with Post Mount Sign Frames and Direction Dots™ floor decals.
- ⑤ Keep customers separate with freestanding Q-PANEL sneeze guards.
- ⑥ Sanitizer dispensers can be mounted on queue posts, sign stands or counters.
- ⑦ Select the guard style for your needs: Fixed (7a) for heavy transaction areas and portable (7b) for occasional use at multiple locations.

Exit This Way

Messaging and equipment are just as important once the transaction is completed. Limit cross-traffic interactions with one-way flows and provide additional sanitizer dispensers near the exit.

Direct customers with floor decals and signage to exit away from the queue to protect those next in line.

A little extra sanitizer can't hurt! Place an additional dispenser near the exit for use after a transaction.
